New business lending laws and regulations are already here in some states and regulator purviews, or on the near horizon. On March 24, Utah Governor Spencer Cox signed S.B. 183, the Commercial Financing Registration and Disclosure Act (“CFRDA”). This makes Utah the third state to adopt a commercial financing disclosure law, following California and New York. However, the Utah disclosure law does not include an “APR” disclosure requirement. APR disclosure requirements have proven difficult to implement and have delayed the effective dates of the disclosure laws in California and New York.

Join Kate Fisher and Bob Gage as they discuss the latest developments and what you should be doing to prepare.

Hudson Cook is pleased to host a client educational series: Compliance Coffee Breaks. These 30-minute “mini-webinars” feature Hudson Cook attorneys presenting on a variety of compliance topics, including auto finance, debt collection practices, mortgage and housing, credit reporting, and more. You may submit your questions ahead of time via the registration link or submit them via the Q&A box during the presentation. As of 2022, we are using the Zoom platform for our webinars.

Registration required. All fields with an asterisk (*) are required. Registration is offered and available primarily to clients of Hudson Cook, LLP. Please register using a company email address. Attempted registrations using personal email (Gmail, Yahoo, etc.) or academic email addresses (.edu) will not be accepted or will be canceled prior to the date of the webinar, as will registrations from lawyers at law firms, government employees or reporters. After registering and being approved, registrants will receive a confirmation email containing instructions on how to log in to the webinar.
