

deBanked publishes Attorney Caleb Rosenberg's article on Income Share Agreements

March 9th, 2020

On February 28, deBanked published Hudson Cook attorney Caleb Rosenberg's article, "Income Share Agreements – Operating Under Current Regulations and Preparing for the Future." According to the article, although the Income Share Agreement Market (ISA) is rapidly developing with more providers offering ISA programs to students and outside money moving into the space, but the legal environment remains uncertain. Caleb gives background on ISAs and what compliance issues should be considered on both the state and federal levels.

Caleb is an associate in the Maryland office of Hudson Cook. He advises merchant cash advance companies, traditional factoring companies, commercial lenders and investors in those companies on how to establish or revamp programs and products. Caleb also advises federal- and state-chartered depository institutions, savings associations, finance companies, mortgage bankers and licensed lenders in developing consumer mortgage, automobile finance and other credit programs.

Click here to read the article.

Hudson Cook, LLP provides articles, webinars and other content on its website from time to time provided both by attorneys with Hudson Cook, LLP, and by other outside authors, for information purposes only. Hudson Cook, LLP does not warrant the accuracy or completeness of the content, and has no duty to correct or update information contained on its website. The views and opinions contained in the content provided on the Hudson Cook, LLP website do not constitute the views and opinion of the firm. Such content does not constitute legal advice from such authors or from Hudson Cook, LLP. For legal advice on a matter, one should seek the advice of counsel.