

Partner Lucy Morris quoted in Fortune magazine

February 22nd, 2021

In the February 2021 issue, Fortune outlines the U.S. economy's new "power players" under President Biden, including Rohit Chopra, Biden's pick for director of the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB). Fortune noted that amped up regulation of the financial services industry looks to be a significant trend in the Biden administration, with Chopra's record suggesting that he will be an "energetic" regulator.

Lucy Morris, a Hudson Cook partner who served with Chopra in the early days of the CFPB, anticipates "that he will be at least as aggressive as former director Cordray, if not more." Lucy's assessment of Biden's pick is outlined in a recent article she wrote for Hudson Cook Insights.

Hudson Cook, LLP provides articles, webinars and other content on its website from time to time provided both by attorneys with Hudson Cook, LLP, and by other outside authors, for information purposes only. Hudson Cook, LLP does not warrant the accuracy or completeness of the content, and has no duty to correct or update information contained on its website. The views and opinions contained in the content provided on the Hudson Cook, LLP website do not constitute the views and opinion of the firm. Such content does not constitute legal advice from such authors or from Hudson Cook, LLP. For legal advice on a matter, one should seek the advice of counsel.