

Partner Patty Covington quoted in Automotive News 2020 predictions article

February 25th, 2020

Automotive News recently asked attendees at the American Financial Services Association (AFSA) Vehicle Finance conference what they consider to be the main focus of the auto finance industry in 2020. Hudson Cook Partner Patty Covington replied, “Everybody’s trying to figure out what they can do with AI. They ought to be focused on privacy. Because with the California Consumer Privacy Act, that is going to have some huge ramifications and it’s going to trickle into other states.”

Patty has practiced in consumer financial services for the last 20 years. She advises banks, auto sales finance companies, installment lenders, motor vehicle dealers, leasing companies, trade associations, ancillary product providers and technology providers on a wide array of issues related to consumer financial services. Patty’s practice focuses on auto finance, personal property lending, installment lending, dealer law, creditor-based collection practices, ancillary products law, federal and state regulatory compliance, CFPB-readiness, UDAAP, UDAP, privacy, data security and information management, electronic commerce and marketing.

Click here to read the Automotive News article.

Hudson Cook, LLP provides articles, webinars and other content on its website from time to time provided both by attorneys with Hudson Cook, LLP, and by other outside authors, for information purposes only. Hudson Cook, LLP does not warrant the accuracy or completeness of the content, and has no duty to correct or update information contained on its website. The views and opinions contained in the content provided on the Hudson Cook, LLP website do not constitute the views and opinion of the firm. Such content does not constitute legal advice from such authors or from Hudson Cook, LLP. For legal advice on a matter, one should seek the advice of counsel.